THE BEGINNING

As we near the end of our respective high school careers, our planning for our later lives also nears its end. Whether we plan to obtain employment or to pursue our educations further, if we do not work toward the fulfillment of these dreams, our plans are all in vain. If we have neglected our plans, let us begin to make them, and when they are complete, let us begin to follow them to their fruition. These are Mallach's words:

NOT BEGUN

Men plan their lives and then neglect their days,
Hold up the blueprint for the public praise,
Explain this angle and describe this wall,
But built on paper is not built at all...
We need a purpose, but the greatest need
Of any future is the present deed.

Men plan their lives, and much admire the plan,
But hands must finish what the heart began.
Whatever purpose we are planning for,
To plan is something but there's something more;
A dream is nothing but a deed undone,
And no one builds a building not begun.

Men plan their lives with many a lovely tower,
The future dream, neglect the present hour,
But one day longer means a week more late.
Though men may idle, time will never wait;
No wall is builded, turret upward thrust,
By pretty blueprints left to gather dust.

FOREWORD

Traditionally, the graduating class at Terrell has the firm conviction that its year surpasses all those which have gone before, and a good many which will come after. This one is no exception.

The achievements of this year--academic, civic, and athletic--have combined to make it one of the most successful of all school years. Pride in accomplishment and an eagerness for only the best have made the year what it has been. Such a year should not be closed and put away as one would a finished book, but remembered forever by those who helped to make it and those who wish to emulate it.

Come with us as we present our case for the year which we think happens "Once in a Lifetime."

ONCE IN A LIFETIME THEME

Throughout this year Terrellites have been a part of a year that can never be recreated. As the years pass, many will venture through "Ole Terrell High," seeking a spark from the eternal flame that burns here. Although they will be warmed by the glow of this flame, nothing will compare with the brightness which has shone this year.

The many outstanding achievements by seniors, juniors, and sophomores prove that this indeed has been an eventful year.

In this publication of the Panther, it is our desire to recapture memories of the past and to present to you a yearbook that will serve in the future as a reminder of this--our "Once in a Lifetime" school year.

PROLOGUE

As we only pass through this phase of our lives once, our achievements will be long remembered. In order to recall this "Once in a Lifetime" year, the journalism class has prepared the 1966 edition of the Panther. It is our aim to present in a comprehensive manner all the events that have taken place this year.

This book will be used as a supplement to the real actions; to highlight them and to make them as real as they once were. The language is simple and has been carefully chosen to describe all of our most memorable occasions.

This '66 Panther will serve in the future as a reminder of the past, always representing this unforgettable year.

PHILOSOPHY-OBJECTIVE-

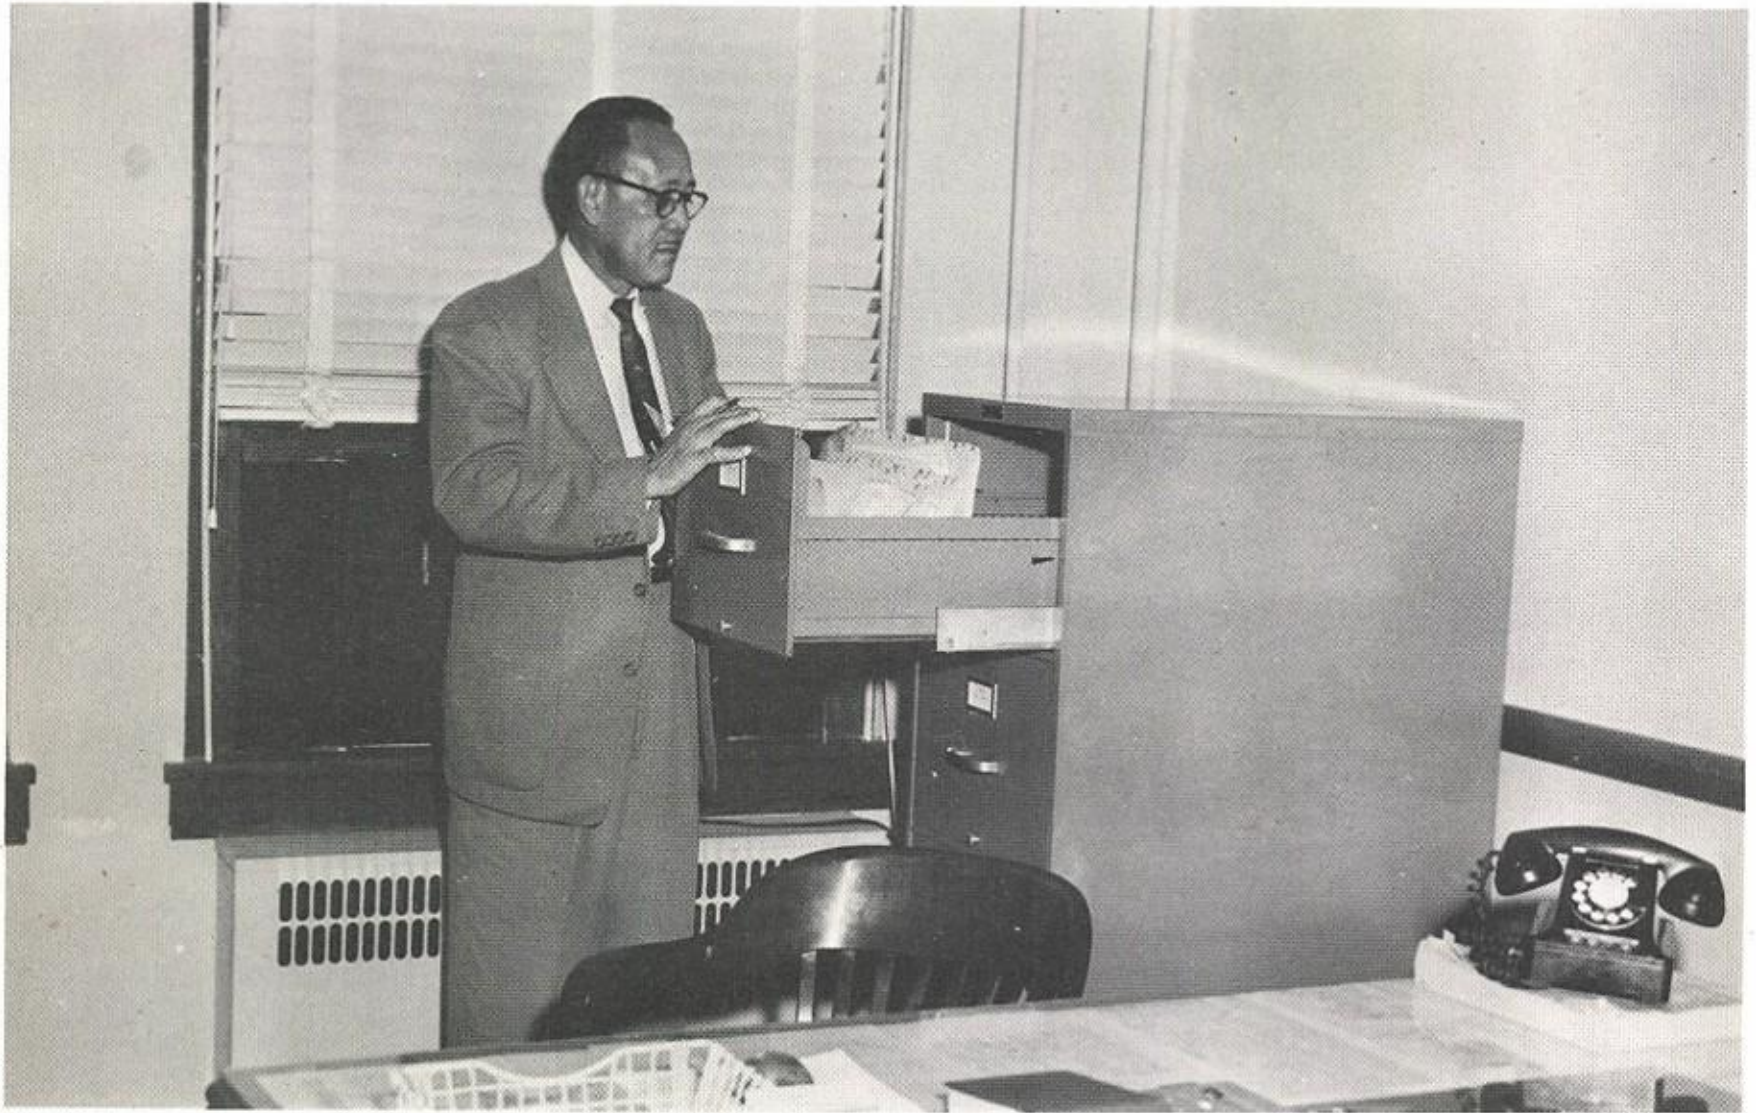

PROBABLE OUTCOME

We believe in the dignity and worth of the individual; we believe that every child should be permitted to develop his God-given talents to his maximum ability. We believe that every child should be an acceptable as well as a contributing member of society.

Our Objectives are: to develop habits of good citizenship through an understanding of democratic principles; to develop sound mental and physical health; to give guidance and direction that will enable pupils to choose wisely the vocation from which they can give the most effective service; to develop within the individual a sense of responsibility for his actions and respect for the spiritual values of life.

Outcome: We hope that there will be a definite evidence that pupils will have developed, by the time they finish high school, desirable skills, habits, knowledge, understandings, abilities, and appreciations to the extent that they will be able to make intelligent life adjustments in our American Way of Life.

WE PROUDLY DEDICATE THE 1966 PANTHER TO MR. LAFAYETTE WILLIAMS

"Some men are born great, others achieve greatness, some have greatness thrust upon them." ----Shakespeare

For many years, those of us associated with I.M. Terrell High School have had the privilege of knowing a man who truly possesses an innate greatness. That man is Mr. Lafayette B. Williams.

During his years at Terrell, he has accomplished not only the task of being a great administrator, but also a great friend, counselor, and teacher. Students think of him with the respect and love that only a man of his caliber can receive.

His sound advice, his stern discipline, and his clear-cut definition of right and wrong have always been a guiding light.

He has been a constant source of inspiration and guidance to the student body. No problem has been too small to discuss, and no task, too difficult to tackle. In all situations he has been found capable of making positive contributions.

This dedication is but an humble effort to show our appreciation for his thirty-seven years of diligent work; for his noble efforts and untiring devotion to the cause of keeping high the standards of I.M. Terrell High School.

With a deep sense of humility and genuine affection for one who has proved himself to be a real friend to youth, the Journalism Class dedicates the 1966 Panther to Mr. Lafayette B. Williams.

FACULTY

GREETINGS

The other members of our faculty join me in this special greeting to our parents, alumni and friends of I.M. Terrell Jr.-Sr. High School. We are mindful of the tremendous responsibilities that we have as teachers and parents in training our youth. It is our task to guide, lead, and motivate them to higher goals of achievement.

This is a period for our children to plan for the present and future. Once in a lifetime will they enjoy these opportunities. Exploits in Science and Technology point the way to a glorious future for those who are prepared. "Education is the key to this future."

You are cordially invited to visit the school at any time.

A Message From the President

Life is but a narrow road we travel but once. The pitfalls, the blunders, and the mistakes are ineradicable. The past is already a reality which can not be changed; however, the future is anticipated reality which can be modified and corrected.

We, as seniors, realize this. We must, therefore, forget the blunders of the past and prepare to approach the future with newer goals and better criterions.

When the slate is clean, we make the marks. Whether they be good or bad ones depends on us. The future is our clean slate. Let the marks be good ones.

What a swinging pep rally ! ! ! !

Once in a lifetime

You make the touchdown; we make the noise ! ! !

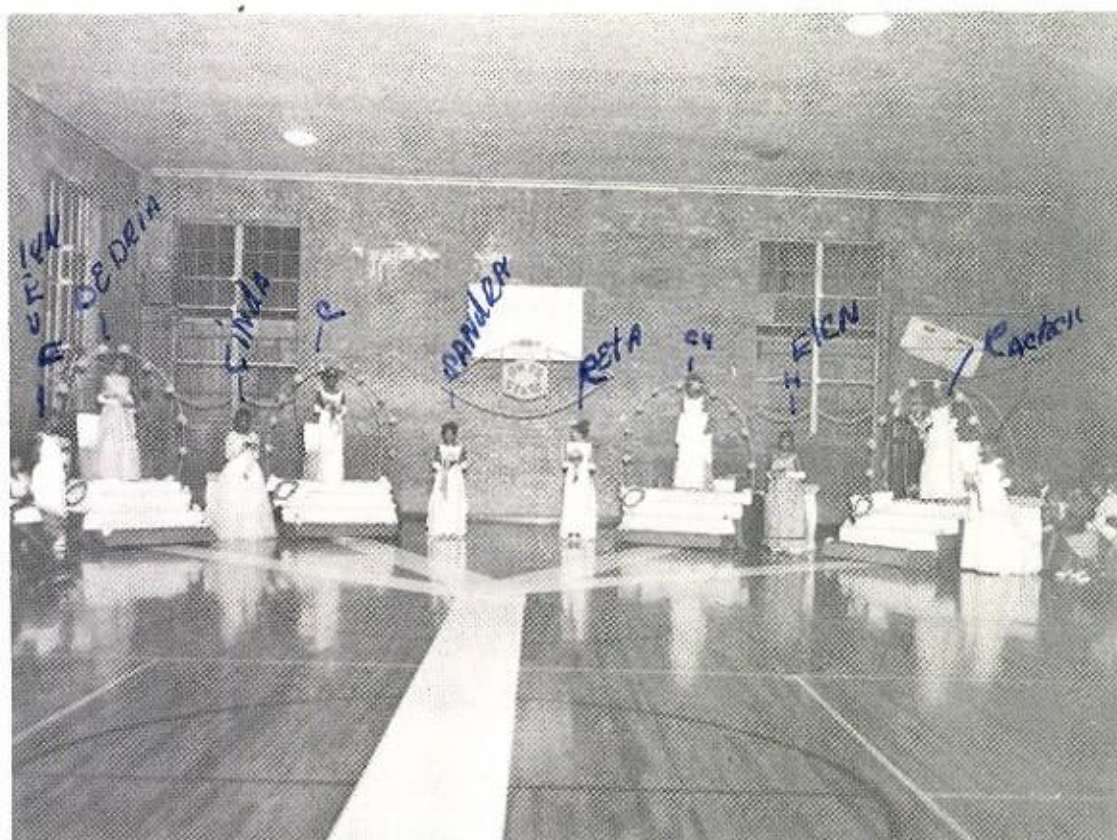

Mr. Leonard Briscoe urges students to use the same drive in life as the players on the football field.

Rev. Bobby Webber delivers the invocation as the Homecoming activities begin.

HOMECOMING ACTIVITIES

Queens and attendants fill the dance floor with glamour.

P.T.A. ALUMNI BANQUET

This year the Parent-Teachers Association, headed by President Mrs. Willie M. Smith, devised a unique method of renewing the "old Terrell spirit" in those who had once passed through its halls. During the Homecoming festivities, they sponsored a banquet for all alumni, which was very well attended. The pictures on these pages show some of the scenes from a memorable evening. Above, right, is Mr. King, delivering the welcoming address. On the left is Mr. Richard Hill. In the center is Mr. R. Gregory, the principal speaker. At the bottom, Mrs. Robbie Session, Vice-president, speaks.

The objective of the P. T. A. is to promote better relations between parents and teachers, so that they might cooperate intelligently in the training of the child.

Coach Johnson speaks for alumni guest

Trios by band and chorus perform as queen approaches.

The former Miss I. M. Terrell, Barbara Kindle, takes her place.

TRIBUTE

The Journalism Class of 1966 feels privileged to have worked with so fine an individual as their Advisor, Mrs. L.D. Phillips.

Her untiring efforts to help students reach the highest levels of achievement have helped them to keep the school's yearbooks, newspapers, and other publications representative of the growing, filled-with-activity institution that Terrell is. She has always advised rather than dictated, and sought to guide rather than to lead; insisting that publications should reflect the tastes and ideas of students, rather than her own.

Such an advisor comes only once in a lifetime, and we are proud she came to Terrell High. Thank-You, Mrs. Phillips, for making the contribution that you have made.

--The Staff

It takes dedicated minds for the yearbook to be developed.

How is this for a Change???

Do you think this is O.K. ??

We don't want anyone's name misspelled in the yearbook.

A TALE OF TWO MEN

Many schools have been justly proud to have a coach who could transform somewhat unpolished athletes into superb sportsmen. If so, Terrell is doubly proud, because she has two.

In response to the inspired coaching of Walter Day and Robert Hughes, their respective teams finished their seasons with high honors in district and state competition. Our gridiron guys compiled the most impressive record in eighteen years advancing to the state finals with a 10-1 record. To the surprise of no one, our cagers, as State Champions, returned to the State play-offs again this year.

Coaches Robert Hughes and Walter Day have demonstrated ability not only to develop the physical aspects of a young man's character, but also to encourage him to find within those mental and emotional characteristics which will help him obtain victory in the game of life.

These men are to be congratulated for giving such outstanding service to the teams, the school, and the community.

EPILOGUE

"Like the dew on the mountain,
Like foam on the river,
Like the bubble on the fountain
Thou art gone, and forever!"

Sir Walter Scott, Lady of the Lake

And just as Scott's "Lady" has gone never to return, so have the events and activities of this year.

However, we have striven to capture for you in this pictorial journal lasting memories of these now past events. We sincerely hope that each activity "re-lived" on the pages of this book has brought and will continue to bring to each of you only the fondest memories.

THE NEW BEGINNING

The end of our high school education marks the beginning of another phase of our lives. It is, in a sense, "a new beginning"; one in which we leave behind one part of our lives only to enter another. The successes and failures of the old phase will be of little or no consequence in the new. It is up to us to make the "new beginning" what we will.

$$E=Mc^2$$

THE JOURNEY

Just one more river to cross you say,
Just one more hill to climb,
Then down in the dale our dreams await
The dreams we have journeyed to find.

But alas, my friend, from the top of the hill,
The road like a ribbon still runs...
And the rest of the mist whispers,
"Rest and refresh, for the journey has only begun.

"Beyond lie broad valleys and gleaming vales,
Rivers that dance in the sun...
While veiled in blue haze the mountains arise,
The mountains we still must o'ercome."

Let fall then a dream at the top of each hill,
A dewdrop of hope by each stream...
Someone will gather the crystals of hope,
Someone will follow the dream.
